Paperback Wallet

Supplies Needed:

- An old, paperback book
- Duct tape
- Contact paper
- Pen
- Scissors
- Adhesive Velcro (strips or buttons)

Step 1:
Cut the cover off of the paperback book.

Step 2:
Place the cover on the backing of the contact paper. Outline and then cut out a piece of contact paper that leaves roughly ½ - 1 inch around the margins of the cover.

Step 3:
Remove the backing from the contact paper and smooth the adhesive side over the front of the cover. Fold the ends over the edges.

Step 4:
Layer duct tape over the back of the cover – make sure to hide the places where the contact paper was folded over. Trim any excess edges.

Step 5:
Cut two pieces of duct tape almost the length of your paperback cover. Lay one flat, adhesive-side up and then place second piece adhesive-side down on top of it to create a piece of “duct tape fabric”. Trim any sticky edges.
Step 6:

Center the strip of duct tape fabric just above the bottom edge of the back cover. Duct tape the sides and bottom edge of the fabric into place. This creates the billfold. Trim off any excess edges.

Step 7:

Fold the cover to resemble a wallet.

Step 8:

Place the adhesive Velcro wherever you would like your wallet to close.
